

Philosophy and Feminism

Philosophy 510 TR 2:10-3:30 HS 18

Professor Charlotte Witt

This is a great course for students interested in philosophy or in women's studies, including majors in either subject.

Our goals for the semester include:

- developing our understanding of key notions in feminist theory like oppression, social construction, and intersectionality
- understanding sex and gender and the difference between them
- learning about implicit bias and stereotype threat, and how to combat them.
- studying the connections between feminist theory, queer theory, and postcolonial theorizing
