Course Description
The course will examine China’s diverse physical environments, politics, economies, and cultures across her vast territory. Students will learn to adopt a relational and spatial perspective to study the contemporary issues in China.

In Curriculum
This course fulfills:
- The World Culture category requirement within the Discovery Program;
- The one-course requirement in regional geography for a geography major with human geography concentration.

Further, the course is an elective for International Affairs major/minor and Asian Studies minor.

Learning Objectives
- Recognize key climates, landforms, water bodies, and administrative units;
- Identify key contemporary issues and their historical roots;
- Explain the contemporary issues in the Chinese contexts with Chinese eyes;
- Compare the contemporary issues in China with similar issues in the US;
- Investigate a specific contemporary issue in a specific place in China.

Required Texts
Textbooks are available at UNH bookstore and Durham Book Exchange.

Course Format
The course is based on both lectures and in-class discussions. In general, I will lecture half of the class and leave the rest of the time to discussions. Into the semester, we will gradually give more weights to discussions.

Requirements
There are two parts contributing to the final grade of the course: class participation and term project.

- Class participation: All students are expected to attend the classes, actively participate in discussions. All students will also be expected to read about 30 pages of reading every week. To better prepare the in-class discussion, individual students are required to prepare at least one question every week when there is a reading assigned. Questions should be directly related to either the reading of that week or the content presented in the previous class. These should be real questions — that is, the things you do not know. Be prepared to raise it in class. Every question is worth 2 points.

- Term Project: As the term project, students will be asked to study a specific issue in a specific place in China. The project has four steps, each resulting a written report. Every step is worth 50 points. (1) The first step is to identify a specific city or province in China that you want to visit or study. Students will use both class materials and online resources to study the city/province’s physical environment, politics, economy, and culture in general. (2) Students will need to identify a specific contemporary issue in the chosen place. Students need to study the issue’s history and contemporary developments. (3) Students then need to compare the issue with similar issues in other parts of China and in the US. (4) Students need to compile all the materials into a final report and give a presentation to class.

- Class Notes: After each lecture (not before), I will upload the slides onto MyCourses. I do so because I do not want you to write down every word I say in class. Even though these notes are important for the quizzes and exams, try to be a smart notes taker. In fact, the questions I post before each class should become your guideline of taking notes. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to borrow notes from your peers.

- Classroom Behavior: To insure a climate of learning for all, disruptive or inappropriate behavior (repeated outbursts, disrespect for the ideas of others, etc.) may result in exclusion (removal) from this class. As a reminder, cell phone/PDA, etc. use, including text messaging, is not permitted in this class by Faculty Senate rule unless by instructor permission. Laptops and tablets are allowed to be used only for the purpose of taking notes and doing data labs. Using laptops and tablets for any other reasons will be seen as a violation of the class policy. Each time of violating the electronic devices policy will result in 1% from your final grade.

- Make-ups and Late Work: Since we allow dropping the lowest grades, there will be no make-up for tests unless you meet the following condition. If you expect to miss more than one test AND you participate in an approved intercollegiate team, please notify me before the class and you may be allowed to take a make-up. You must also have your notice signed off by your coach or a representative of your team. Any other travel needs do not qualify for make-ups. Any kind of emergency including the medical ones must be reported to the college. The college will inform all your professors and so you do not need to deal with each of us individually.

Every 24 hours past due will be penalized by 10% of the grade of that assignment. Should you have a college/university approved activity delaying your submission, please let me know at least 24 hours before the deadline.

- University Academic Honesty Statement: The University does not tolerate any kind of academic dishonesty. When you are working on a writing assignment, do not cut and paste from other sources. Be sure to quote and cite any words that are not your own and be sure to attribute ideas to their original source even when paraphrasing. You may fail the class by not following the rules. If you are not sure about what constitutes academic misconduct, ask the instructor or see the university’s Students Rights, Rules and Responsibilities handbook, available at http://www.unh.edu/student/rights/

- Emotional and Mental Health Distress: Your academic success in this course is very important to me. If during the semester, you find emotional or mental health issues are affecting that success, please contact the University’s Counseling Center (3rd floor Smith Hall: 603-862-2090/TTY:7-1-1) which provides counseling appointments and other mental health services. You may find more information about UNH Counseling Center at http://www.unh.edu/counseling-center/homepage

- Special accommodations: The University is committed to providing students with documented disabilities equal access to all university programs and facilities. If you think you have a disability requiring accommodations, you must register with Disability Services for Students (DSS). If you have questions about the process, please contact DSS at (603) 862-2607 or disability.office@unh.edu. If you are registered with DSS, and eligible for accommodations that you would like to utilize in this course, please forward that information to me in a timely manner so that we can meet privately in my office to review those accommodations. For more information, please visit http://www.unh.edu/disabilityservices.

Syllabus Changes
The professor reserves the right to make changes to the syllabus, including project due dates and test dates, when unforeseen circumstances occur. These changes will be announced as early as possible so that students can adjust their schedules.
