What is the ultimate purpose of human civilization? Is humanity really making progress toward truth and justice, or is that a myth perpetuated by colonial western posers to justify brutality? Should religion and politics be separate? Is capitalism a force of liberty or oppression? Should we conserve or destroy traditional notions of gender, race, and class? Is technology sending us toward prosperity or doom? Will democracy survive pandemics, recessions, and technological upheaval?